

Dear Laird Valued Customers:

This letter to inform you the PET film change used in Laird thermal products, Tpli200 after late Jan.

The new film is without "Laird" Logo, and the film itself hasn't changed.

The "before" and after "color" difference shown as below pictures and please note the actual gloss and tint may slightly difference when products are receiving.

Laird had verified releasing force without any change and for the product properties and function will be fit and not be impacted by this change.
